Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. * * * It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D. and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

SISTER SHOOTS SISTER.

Almost beside herself with jealousy, Mrs. Josephine Kelly, 20 years old, shot and killed her sister, Miss Ida Gaff, 19 years old, in the saloon of her husband, Francis Kelly, on Mulliken street, Baltimore, about 8 o'clock last night. Mrs. Kelley was arrested by a policeman who was standing near the home at the time and locked up.

Witnesses who were in the room at the time of the shooting say that Mrs. Kelly came to the saloon about 7.45 p. m., and finding Miss Gaff there became engaged in a quarrel with her. It is said that the discussion continued for about 15 minutes, Mrs. Kelly accusing her sister of alienating the affections of her husband. It is further started that Miss Gaff finally picked up a stick and started toward her sister with it upraised, as if she were going to strike her.

Mrs. Madge Webb and Miss Grace Palmer prevented Miss Gaff from reaching her sister. Then, it is alleged, Mrs. Kelly ran into the saloon and obtaining the pistol from a drawer behind the bar fired through a little window. None of the witnesses was able to say how many shots were fired, but all five of the chambers of the weapon were empty when examined at the station. It was almost a miracle that no one else was hurt, as there were about six persons in the room, two of whom were a painter and carpenter, who were working in the place.

"I was married to Mr. Kelly on the 13th day of last June. Ever since my marriage my sister Ida has been trying to win my husband from me and has told people that she loved him and that she would make him leave me. She was the cause of a separation between my husband and myself which lasted two weeks. He told me that he did not care for her and would forbid her coming to his place. I had been up town making some purchases last night and returned to my husband's place of business about 7:30 o'clock and found my sister in the room back of the saloon. She and I had had several quarrels before, and I was surprised to find her there, since I had on previous occasions ordered her from the house and forbid her to come to the place. I took my husband to task and asked him to explain her presence there. He said that she had come up with his sister and not through his solicitation. She became enraged at my objection to her being in the house and started to upbraid and abuse me, saying that she would get him away from me as she did before and that she meant to have him at all hazards. One word brought on another between us and she struck at me. Mrs. Madge Wade, who was in the room at the time, endeavored to prevent her from striking me, and then she picked up a piece of molding and started after me. I ran throug to the bar and picked up a revolver, which my husband kept behind a drawer, and, totally unaware of what I was doing, fired through the little window in the wall, through which we pass drinks to the dining-room. I did not mean to shoot her, and fired at no definite object. When I saw her fall I was near crazed, and don't remember a thing till I was on the way here to the station. I have not the slightest idea how many shots I fired, and had never before fired a pistol. She knew I did not want her near me", continued Mrs. Kelley, "and she has, ever since my marriage to Frank, tried to separate us. She always claimed she loved him and meant to get him. She was the means of separating us once before, and after two weeks I forgave him on his promise to never again have anything to do with her."

Mrs. Kelley was hysterical last night and frequently asked about her sister's condition, not knowing of her death.

Fight with a Mad Dog.

A huge mongrel black and white dog, frothing at the mouth, early yesterday dashed in upon half a dozen men at work in the livery stable of Piercy & Co., west Fifteenth street, New York. Hurling his great bulk against Seth Kelly, one of the stablemen, the ferocious animal fastened his fangs in Kelly's left cheek, bearing the man to the floor. Before the other stablemen could drive off the maddened beast he had succeeded in tearing off nearly the entire side of Kelley's face. A blow from the spoke of a wheel stunned the animal, and he released his hold on Kelly, only to turn upon the others. With pitchforks and heavy brooms, the men warded the attack. Then the dog rushed up to the second floor, where about 50 horses were stabled, and snapping at their legs drove the animals frantic. Tearing loose from their halters, the horses rushed wildly about the place. Telephone calls brought half dozen police reserves and an ambulance Kelly was taken to a hospital, and the officers, with drawn revolvers, searched the stable for the dog. As Patrolman Lenahan led a horse back to his stall the dog, crouching in a dark corner, leaped at the officer, missing his throat by a hair's breadth. A bullet from Lenahan's revolver stopped a second leap, and the officer emptied his gun into the beast's body. None of the horses was bitten, according to a veterinarian who examined them.

The Grotto of Lourdes.

What shall the French goverment do with the Grotto of Lourdes? Ever since the passage of the law separating church from State this problem has puzzled each successive government. M. Clemenceau says he is going to solve it now, though even he hesitates to promise to forbid pilgrimages or to destroy the famous pool. The officials of Paris, incidentally, represent to the government that their community's great prosperity in recent years will instantly crumble should the new law be applied there. The government replied that it can take no notice of such considerations. Nevertheless, it is undoubtedly seeking some way around the difficulty. Those who oppose a continuation of the pilgrimages say the pool is a menace to the community's health, spreading disease with a rapidity which would cause a panic had not special hospitals been established nearby to care for the patients.

THE DINING-ROOM

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your ownself begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Let us fit out the dining-room as well as yourself. Prices very reasonable.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 9, 1906.

IT IS gratifying to all sober minds that the alleged scandals in connection with the Castellane divorce case in Paris are not to be brought to the surface, and that a number of females who were to figure as corespondents will be spared the notoriety they and their friends dreaded, but which they really deserved. While the great mass of people in the United States have no interest in the women whose honor has been compromised in this celebrated case, the great city of Paris, in which they are well-known, would experience a colossal scandal. It would be better if all such cases as that of the Castellanes were settled without stirring up cesspools, a fact appreciated by the well-meaning people of every community. Family disputes are allowed to grow for years until all interested rush into litigation, and after shameful exposes are made of their private affairs the matters in dispute are settled by compromises, which could have been done without the mortification incident to court trials. But there is a class in every city who revel in scandals. Such are, of course, disappointed when it is announced that such are not to be ventilated. There are ever and anon whisperings of impending scandals concerning the marital infelicities of people in different places. The parties to such unfortunate issues should follow the course now to be taken by the Castellanes, by settling their broils with as little publicity as possible.

NOTWITHSTANDING peace conferences and dreams of an approaching millenium wars and rumors of war seem to be still in the air. A paragraph in the Washington correspondence of yesterday's Gazette showed that this country is preparing the most formidable coast defense armament, while the British fleet was recently ordered to be in readiness for immediate orders. Speaking at Catania Italy, yesterday, Angelo Majorana, minister of the Italian treasury, said the increase in the allotment for military expenses was in no way connected with a fear of war. He announced an appropriation of $100,000,000 for improvements in State railroads, and said the budget for this year would show a surplus of $12,600,000. The rank and file are always ignorant of what is contemplated in diplomatic circles, but when large budgets are presented and activity in military and naval circles is displayed, they are naturally apprehensive.

ABSINTHE was formally banished by popular vote from the canton of Vaud, in Switzerland, on the last Sunday in September. The voters of the canton held popular assemblies and the vote stood 22,530 against the drug to 17,676 in its favor. The enemies of the distilleries are so elated by their victory that they are starting an agitation for the prohibition not only of the retail traffic in absinthe, but also of its production, importation or sale in any shape throughout the entire Swiss republic. The Swiss have seen what a bad effect absinthe has had upon their neighbors, the French, and have determined to have none of it in their country. The deterioration of France is attributed mainly to the excessive use of absinthe by her people. "O that men should put an anemy into their mouths to steal away their brains."

From Washington.

Washington, Nov. 9.

With not one scalp of an unfriendly Congressman at his belt as a trophy from the recent campaign, President Samuel Gompers will today leave for Minneapolis, there to face the reported differences in the ranks of the American Federation of Labor over his entrance into the field of politics. It has been predicted that some of the men of power in the federation who were opposed to the political movement will attempt Gomper's undoing at the annual convention which opens next Monday. It is believed, however, that the majority of the delegates are with Gompers.

The Navy Department this morning received a wireless message from Capt. Cauden announcing that the Louisiana, which is carrying the President to Panama, sailed from Piney Point about 11 p. m. last night and was near Cape Henry at 5 a. m. today.

Whether the Interstate Commerce Commission shall investigate the Harriman grab of the Illinois Central Railroad probably will not be decided until President Roosevelt returns from Panama and Congress convens. Either Congress or the President can order the investigation. In some quarters the deal by which Harriman gains control of the Illinois Central is looked upon as a step toward the road's consolidation with the Union Pacific. While in the general meaning of the term the roads are not parallel, the Supreme Court's decision in the Northern Securites case is belived to be broad enougt to cover these roads on the question of "competing lines. Harriman's desire to get hold of the Illinois Central is regarded as an advanced step in the intentions of the trans-continental lines to compete with the Panama canal when it is finished.

The final round-up of those government forces which have been especially interested in the investigation of the operations of the standard oil trust took place at the Department of Justice today. F. B. Kellogg, of St. Paul and C. B. Morrison, of Chicago, special counsel in the oil trust investigations, are here in response to the call of the Attorney General. They were closeted the entire morning with Assistant Attorney Purdy, who has charge of all trust matters. They were surprised but gratified to have laid before them a printed copy of the bill in the equity proceeding which, it is admitted, will be begun in a very few days. The action will be similar in character to that in the Northern Securities case, and the Department of Justice is confident that it can successfully dissolve the oil trust as it did the railroad cambination.

In order that the enlisted men of the navy may be prepared, on enlistment, to purchase all the uniforms required by naval regulations, the Navy Departments will recomend to Congress next session that the initial clothing allowance for sailors be increased from $46 to $60.

Some sympathy has been expressed here because of the fact that among the 180 colored soldiers of the 25th Infantry who are to be dismissed by order of the President on account of Brownsville, Texas, affair, there are many who have long records of excellent service and some who were on the eve of retirement with pension. These men after thirty or forty years service in the army, and with government employment barred to them, will, it is stated, probably find it hard to make a living. "This is all true," said a high army officer today when this suggestion was made to him, "and it is unfortunate. But, stripped of all sentimentality, the facts are that a brutal, unprovoked and outrageous attack was made all night on the citizens of Brownesville by men wearing the U. S. uniform. One man lost his life and another his arm as a result. There is no reasonable doubt that every man in the three companies, B, C and D, knows full well the identity of the few among them who were actually responsible for the deed. Under the circumstances all become equally guilty." Asked what would be the effect of the order upon the twelve men who were put under arrest under suspicion of being the guilty parties, the same officer announced that they would be released and dismissed from the army with the rest of their colleagues.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

The second day's session of the Virginia branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions of the Episcopal Church convened in the parish house of Holy Trinity Church, Richmond, yesterday morning.

Reports of the diocesan secretaries were heard, and Miss Sallie Stuart made a brief comment in regard to them.

Miss Katherine Stuart read the sixteenth annual report of the Woman's Auxiliary, which was full of interest, and which showed that the total amount given to missions last year was $9,887.-63.

Miss Cadot, acting for Mrs. Christian, read the general report, showing a total of twenty-one branches. Miss Gibson reported $292.25 given for the emergency fund.

Miss Stuart then introduced Miss Packard, from Brazil, who made a brief talk on the needs of her work.

Miss Katherine Stuart read reports from thirty-eight branches, showing that the finances were in good condition.

The offering of $189 was taken for Bishop Funsten's work in Boise City, Idaho.

Mrs Barton reported forty-one junior branches of the auxiliary, with twenty-three delegates present.

Miss Mary Packard, who arrived from Alaska last Friday, spoke of the work there. She was the only American Episcopal worker in a city of 80,000 or 90,000.

A motion was carried that several proposed changes in the constitution be adopted.

The following cities were designated for the places of meeting for the next six years: Charlottesville, 1907; Warrenton, 1908; Leesburg, 1909; Alexandria, 1910; Winchester, 1911; Fredericksburg, 1912.

Miss Sallie Stuart was unanimously elected president, secretary and treasurer for life, with the privilege of appointing an assistant secretary. Her choice fell on Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, who was endorsed by the auxiliary.

All officers were elected, as follows: Junior President, Mrs. Barton; Secretary of Junior Auxiliary, Miss Frances Gibson; Secretary of Babies' Branch, Mrs. Walter Christian; Custodian of Church Periodical Club, Miss Madge Freedley; United Custodian, Miss Katherine Stuart; Secretary of Emergency Fund, Miss Lucy Gibson.

The convention adjourned yesterday afternoon.

At 4 o'clock the Junior Auxiliary delegates held an enthusiastic rally in the auditorium of the church. Addresses were made by Miss Emery, of New York; Mr. Chapman, of Brazil, and Miss Stuart, of Alexandria. After the singing of the grand battle hymn, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," the benediction was pronounced and the meeting closed.

Incendiary Fires.

Malden, Mass., Nov. 9.—The firemen of this and neighboring towns were kept busy last night trying to foil the attempt of unknown incendiaries to burn the city. The incendiaries were so bold that they lighted the hay in the barn of a fire house while the men were trying to put out a fire a mile distant. Before the firemen could return their home was a ruin.

Fire broke out first in the Malden City Lumber Company's yard and spread to two neighboring residences which were consumed.

Meanwhile, flames were discovered in the Linden fire station. A third fire started in a stable. The total loss is placed at $100,000.

To further confuse the firemen some went about the city pulling false alarms.

A Long Chase.

Pittsburg, Nov. 9.—The end of a 10,000-mile chase after the man alleged to have wrecked his home, robbing him not only of his wife and family, but of all his worldly possessions, came for Isaac Simpson, once a prosperous tobacco factor in Johannesburg, South Africa, when he caused the arrest in Turtle Creek, yesterday, of Bernard Levinson. When the wronged and ruined husband caught sight of his quarry in Alderman Croetsinger's office, he became wild with rage and had to be restrained.

Levinson is in jail charged with robbing the woman whom he induced to run away with him, of $6,000. She asserts that Levinson had some strange influence over her and that she knows not why she followed his bidding in all she did.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are now reconciled. They are practically destitute, but should they recover anything they will locate in Ameries.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 9.—The stock market was influenced by the money conditions from the opening. There was speculative liquidation in all parts of the room during the first hour that caused moderate declines in prices in nearly all the stocks traded in. Losses were made ranging from small fractions to 1-3 points. Instead of selling being induced on the declines moderate buying orders were reported and their execution caused frequent rallies.

Winston Churchill, the novelist will probably be elected to the U. S. Senate, from New Hampshire. Churchill republicans, it is said, will combine with the democrats in the legislature for his election.

Blanchard yesterday his resignation as district judge, he being judge of the district in which he would be tried for murder. The two men had always been friends.

Burned to Death.

Penned in by fire, four children and one woman were burned to death in a tenement-house fire on the East Side in New York late yesterday. When finally the blaze had been extinguished and the firemen could penetrate the building the bodies of the victims, charred beyond possibility of recognition, were found in the ruins.

Most of the 15 families in the building were at supper at the time the fire was discovered, and there was the wildest kind of excitement. Policemen were on the scene immediately, and as soon as the firemen arrived helped them in carrying women and children from the upper floors down the fire escape and ladders.

More than 50 women were taken down the fire escapes by firemen. When the firemen arrived on the scene almost every window of the building was crowded with women and children calling for assistance. The fire in the lower floors had filled the halls and stairways with smoke and cut off the means of escape.

The fire was very hot, and there were many heroic rescues in the few minutes during which the people were being taken from the building. When the fireman had rescued everyone they possibly could they turned a deluge of water into the upper floors, but for a half hour made little headway in extinguishing the flames. When finally they had the fire out the search for victims was undertaken.

Only on the second floor did the search reveal bodies. There, huddled in a corner of the flats, were found the body of a woman burned to a crisp, and near by in a group, the remains of four children.

The dead were the wife and children of Samuel Gispen.

Dynamited the Train.

The culmination of a terrorist plot Wednesday night resulted in the dynamiting of a military train at Regoff station at Warsaw, the killing of the military guards, and the theft of $500,000 gold by the terrorists. The plot was well-planned, and went through without a hitch. The train had been made up and was standing in the station, ready to leave for St. Petersburg. The people were about the station, and the military escort were lined up near the coaches containing the treasure. Several bombs were thrown by the terrorists simultaneously. The soldiers were blown to pieces, while several of the powerful bombs exploded under the coaches, derailing and partially wrecking them. The coach containing the gold was demolished, and the safes were dynamited. Those of the bystanders who were not maimed by the explosion rushed away panicstricken, and before the gendarmes arrived on the scene, the terrorists had gathered up the money and decamped. Practically no trace of them was to be had by the authorities.

Negro Lynched.

In a race last night between lynchers and Georgia State troops for the possession of Jet Hicks, the negro who murdered John Akridge, a prominent planter, the mob beat the military by a few minutes to Sale City, the county seat of Mitchell county. They stormed the jail and swung the negro to a tree in the jail yard. When the troops arrived they found the negro dying, and a crowd of curious citizens watching the contortions of their victim.

The negro was captured Wednesday in Dooly county and carried to Moultrie, yesterday afternoon, whence he was taken to Sale City. It was said that farmers were moving on Sale City to lynch the negro when he arrived and the Moultrie militia was ordered by Gov. Terrill to go to Sale City, on special train, and save the negro. The troops left on the special which was run at high speed, but failed to overtake the train which was carrying the negro.

The negro's train reached Sale City at 7:30 o'clock and the negro was hurried to jail. Twenty minutes later farmers were storming the jail and as the negro was strung up the train bearing the troops steamed into the town. The troops quickly marched to the scene of the lynching, but the mob had done its work, and left only the dying prisoner for the soldiers.

The negro's crime was without provocation, and his victim was one of the leading citizens of Mitchell county.

Illinois is still the leading State in the number of routes, having 2,744. In the Eighth Virginia district 143 petitions have been referred, forty-seven adverse reports have been made and sixteen petitions are pending.

Letter to W. M. Reardon.

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: If we sell Devoe to paint your town, your road won't have so much freight to handle.

It takes 10 gallons to paint a fair-size house, and that house won't want painting again for 5 or 10 years. That's true in a way; but people, you know, rather like fresh paint, and they paint for nothing but looks sometimes.

That house would take 12 or 13 gallons of almost any other paint than Devoe, and would have to be painted again in half that time. Ten years is a very long time for a paint to wear; and five isn't short.

Which makes the most freight, a 10 or 20-gallon paint? 5 or 10 years-paint? But the 10-gallon paint is the 10 year paint; and the 20-gallon paint is the 5-year paint. Which makes the most freight?

Ask your paint dealer which he'd rather sell, and which he could sell most of. Ask your painter which he'd rather paint; whether good or bad paint is good for his business; which is good paint, the 10 or 15-gallon paint; which pays most freight, and which pays most wages. Which will you buy yourself, the 10-gallon 10-year, or 20-gallon 5-year, paint?

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & Co.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Situation in New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—With pluralities ranging from four thousand to ten thousand votes the democratic State ticket, with the exception of Mr. Hearst, has been elected. Chanler has a plurality of 4,000 votes over Bruce, but the republican managers expect to make a fight in the courts for a count of ballots marked "void and protested." Chairman Connors and the democratic State committee met today and took measures to see that the party is represented when the county canvassing boards meet next Tuesday. Connors says that the republicans are holding back for the purpose of stuffing the boxes in order to get enough votes to pull them through. Controller-elect Glynn, of Albany, is ill in Germany and may decline office. In case he declines Governor Hughes may fill the place by appointment. With the election over, Mayor McClellan and his friends have become active in a movement to reorganize Tammany Hall and oust Murphy from the leadership.

A Dastardly Crime.

Stafford Springs, Conn., Nov. 9.—Posses out all night are still scouring the country today for the perpetrator of one of the most cold blooded crimes in the State's history, which was committed late yesterday afternoon at the home of Henry Williams, a farmer. With the evidences of a desperate struggle for her life, the body of Mrs. Williams was found last evening in her kitchen. The woman had been strangled, her throat cut, and her head had been crushed with a stick of wood which she had evidently seized to defend herself. After committing the crime the murderer had ransacked the house and taken about a hundred dollars which he had found hidden in a trunk. There is not the slightest clue to the identity of the slayer. Coroner Fisk said he intended to examine Charles Bishop, the 18 year old farm hand, who first reported the murder.

Shot at His Desk.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Frederick K. Schaufhauser, who is connected with the water department of the city, was fatally shot while seated in his office in the City Hall, today, by a man who gives the name of Frederick Hornberger, 47 years of age.

Schaufhauser is lying in the Medico-Chirurgical hospital where the physicians entertain very little hope for his recovery, and Hornberger is locked up in the Central Police station. About 11.30 o'clock, it is said, Hornberger, entered Mr. Schaufhauser's office on the seventh floor and demanded an interview. Upon being told that Schaufhauser was busy, the man became very much excited, and, after uttering an oath, whipped out a revolver, and fired through the glass door. The missile struck Schaufhauser in the neck and he fell to the floor. Hornberger defied the entire office force and fired four more shots, but none took effect. He was overpowered and locked up. Intense excitement reigned.

After Hornberger was placed in the cell, he said: This morning I shot Schaufhauser, because he broke up my home and blighted my life. My wife died on the seventh of September from worry, over a criminal assault committed by Schaufhauser. "I think I hit him three times and I am glad I shot him."

The Pope's Condition Serious.

Rome, Nov. 9.—Unable to stand the confinement of the Vatican Pope Pius X. is slowly wasting away. This was the opinion expressed today by Dr. Lapponi. "The Pope's condition is only relatively satisfactory," said Dr. Lapponi. "He is not only harassed by gout, but he is also suffering through living in the confined atmosphere of the Vatican, and the fact that his liberty is limited through the necessity of remaining within the Vatican precincts. This has produced nostalgia which is wasting his health more than anything else. My belief is that the Pope will die like an eagle unable to accustom itself to its cage." By all precedent since 1870, the Pope is required never to venture outside the Vatican grounds.

The Thaw Murder Case.

New York, Nov. 9.—Without a settled plan of defense Harry K. Thaw awaits his trial next month for the killing of Stanford White with dread. The young man is undecided who shall plead his case now that many famous lawyers have declined. Warned by the experience of Judge Olcott, Thaw's first counsel, several law firms have refused to accept a retainer except upon the most explicit terms. Thaw is still of the opinion that he should be tried as the avenger of his wife's betrayal. He raves at the idea of an insanity defense.

An Ultimatum.

Havana, Nov. 9.—A virtual ultimatum, delivered to Governor Magoon today by a committee of liberal leaders is believed to foreshadow the first serious rupture between the provisional government and the Cubans. The liberals stated their dissatisfactions with the American rule.

They demanded that all the moderate government officials be placed with men from the liberal ranks. No reply was made to the demands of the Liberals and developments in the crisis are expected in a few hours.

Investigation to Come.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 9.—One of the first things that Governor Hughes will begin on after his inauguration is the reorganization of the State banking department. This banking department has supervision of the State banks of deposit and it is said the probe will be deep and thorough. A searching investigation, it is declared, will not bring on a panic, but will prevent one. The institutions involved are still perfectly sound, but have been playing with fire. The probe will show that great sums have been loaned practically without security.

The Elections.

With the official count of three counties missing, Chanler, democrat, has a lead of 1,700 over Bruce, republican, for lieutenant governor of New York. The democrats have elected the remainder of the State ticket except the Governor.

The majority for the democratic State ticket in Missouri is about 6,000. The republicans got but four districts in Missouri, including those of St. Louis and Kansas City.

Iowa's republican plurality for Governor Cummins will reach 20,000.

In Kansas the contest for the governorship is still in doubt. Republicans elected the State ticket, a majority of the legislature and all Congressmen.

By the narrow margin of 10 the voters of New Hampshire failed to elect a governor. C. M. Floyd, republican nominee, is short 10 votes of a majority, as required by law.

The republicans in Rhode Island are divided over the senatorship, and considerable opposition to Wetmore has developed.

Nevada has probably gone democratic. The latest returns show the republicans will have a majority of 50 in the next House of Representatives.

F. E. Oakes a New York curb broker has offered to bet $1,000 to $10,000 that W. R. Hearst would within a year, be occupying the office now filled by Mayor McClellan. His offer is based on the possibility that the new attorney general if a democrat would cause a recount to be made of the ballots cast in the election for mayor in 1905.

Demented Mother's Plans Frustrated.

Becoming suddenly demented yesterday, Mrs. Pearl Calisle, wife of an electrician at the Wheeling, W. Va., Stamping Works, tried to kill her three children, the youngest eighteen months old, and then burn them, at her home on Caldwells run. Her desperate purpose was foiled only by a woman who happened to be passing. Mrs. Charles Kronewith's attention was attracted by a glare coming from the basement of the house. Thinking the family was unaware of the house being on fire, she rushed into the kitchen and was horrified to find Mrs. Calisle standing over her eighteen-months-old baby, which was stretched on a table. The demented woman had a long butcher knife in her hand and calmly informed Mrs. Kronewith that she was going to cut the child up into small pieces and then do the same to two other small children, whom she had forced into a corner. The little ones were crouched there, afraid to move.

"Let me do the cutting," said Mrs Kronewith, who did not lose her presence of mind, and the crazed woman gave her the knife. Mrs. Kronewith then ran to the door and cried aloud for help, which soon arrived.

Several men fought with the demented woman for half an hour before they were able to subdue her. She was placed in jail. The fire was extinguished.

In jail, Mrs. Calisle stated that she felt as if she were going away to some place, and wanted to kill the children because she knew they would not be properly cared for.

Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Alexandria Division, No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held an open meeting last night in St. Mary's Hall which was largely attended. Speeches were made by Joseph L. Burke, State president, of Norfolk; John T. Flood, State secretary, of Portsmouth; Patrick J. Haltigan, editor of the National Hibernian, of Washington; P. T. Moran, a member of the national board of directors, of Washington; P. F. Carr, of Washington, district vice-president, and John T. Sweeney, county vice-president. After the meeting the members adjourned in a body to Rammel's Hotel where an oyster supper was served. Alexandria Division has a membership of over one hundred members and is one of the largest and most flourishing in the State.

Earl Burgess Company.

Another large crowd greeted the Earl Burgess Company at the Opera House last night to witness the production of "Escaped from the Harem," a drama of the Boxer period in China. The play was enjoyable throughout and the specialties were decidedly good. Tonight the company will present that great play "Tracked Around the World." The play takes in the entire world and is not confined to one place. The play is full of love, intrigue, laughter, and tears. The many adventures are brought about by the machinations of a band of outlaws and gamblers whose only thought in this world is money. Their awful deeds have terrorized the entire country for many years and while many have been arrested and brought to trial, conviction has been impossible owing to the dread in which they are held. This evening this company will present to three persons sitting in the lucky seats a building lot.

Terrible Fate Impending.

George Richardson, colored, of New bern, N. C., who is at present in Richmond, and alleges he predicted the disaster at San Francisco a month before it happened, prophesies that the city of Washington will be destroyed by a huge tidal wave from the ocean on the seventh day of August of next year. He also says: "Inspired by the Holy Ghost and of God, I predict that on next Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, the sun will go into darkness so densely black that the people will have to light their lamps. The sun will remain under the ban of the devil just exactly three minutes."

This "forecast" should be as interesting to Alexandrians as Washingtonians, as the wave will submerge this city before it reaches Washington.

Mildred and Rouclere Co.

The Mildred and Rouclere Co. will appear at the Opera House Monday night, presenting the thrilling illusion "The Flight of Princess Iris." No end of funny stories and incidents come out of the entertainments of these royal illusionists. At every performance there's something doing in the audience, somebody being fooled so cleverly and giving expression to surprise so quaintly that new mines of amusement are being continuously opened and the brilliant show is the talk of the town for many a day after its departure.

The Showman's Ward.

The play "The Showman's Ward," which will be presented by the Lyceum, Dramatic Club, at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum, next Monday night, will, judging from rehearsals, be a pronounced success. The caste, which includes some of Alexandria's most talented actors and actresses, will be as follows: Junius Brutus Plimmins, Martin E. Greene; Hans Dinkelberger, Carl Rothmund; Johnnie Joy, J. T. Lucas; Ripley Oldenzey, E. Forrest Birrell; Props, H. Linden Wheatley; Prof. Obrion, R. C. Green; Sheriff Clutch, J. A. Pettey; Mr. Doublefee, J. A. Pettey; Pattie Willis, Mrs. A. D. Montier; Julianna Delight, Miss Ida Breen; Judith Obrion, Miss Marie Fannon; Dora, Miss Anna Moore; Amie, Miss Katherine Birrell.

At the meeting of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons last night the Master Mason's degree was impressively conferred upon a candidate by the officers of Andrew Jackson Lodge. There was a large attendance. After the business of the evening was over all repaired to the rooms above where a sumptuous banquet was enjoyed. Speeches were made by Grand Master Kemper, Worshipful Masters Warfield and Ruben, D. D. Robt. W. Arnold, Henry Errick, now of New York; P. M. Charles Lindsey and others.

Mr. Dreyfus the Purchaser.

Ten thousand pounds of discarded military garments were sold at auction at the old cavalry armory in Richmond yesterday as woolen rags and were bought by Dreyfus & Co., of Alexandria, for $255. Old blankets sold for 44 cents each, and a large amount of sabres, belts, canteens and the like sold for small amounts. The sum total, including 40 saddles that sold for $430, was $825. They were the accumulation of years and were sold by order of the War Department.

Nelson Welford, colored, arrested by Officers Knight and Lyles for disorderly conduct and fighting, forfeited $10 collateral by failing to appear.

A report was current on the streets last night that a young man, living in the northwestern section of the city, had committed suicide. The report originated from a slight accident to Mr. Charles Bales, of 1303 Queen street. While he was out gunning yesterday morning in Fairfax county he accidentally shot himself in the foot. The wound while painful is not serious.

Attractive Approaches.

Large forces of men are at work on the northern and southern approaches to the new Highway bridge laying granolithic walkways and broad driveways, which, when completed, will add much to the appearance of the new steel structure. On the Virginia side about one-fifth of the total amount of paving to be done has been completed, and on the Washington side about one-third has been laid. The work will make a smooth and magnificent driveway when completed. While the work is in progress all teams going in and out of Washington are using the old Long bridge.

One Italian laborer was instantly killed, one is missing and thought to have been blown to pieces, two are fatally hurt and 15 others are seriously injured by the explosion of 10 sticks of dynamite shortly after noon yesterday in Carrick borough, near Pittsburg, Pa. The victims were laborers on a sewer and were seated around a fire eating. One of the men had placed the dynamite near the fire to take the frost out, and no attention was given it. Without warning there was a terrible explosion in the center of the group around the fire. Several hospitals were called upon, and within a few moments physicians and ambulances were at the scene. Parts of the dead man's body were taken to the morgue in a basket. Several of the injured had legs and arms blown off, and one man had his eyes blown out. Three Girls Asphyxiated.

Because she had been disappointed in a love affair, Aloysia Marsi, aged 17, undertook to kill herself by turning on the gas in a room at the German Hospital in Chicago Wednesday night. In the dormitory with her were three other girls. Two of them are dead and the other is dying as a result of inhaling the gas fumes. The girl who desired to die will recover.

All the girls were employed at the hospital. On Wednesday night they attended a party and returned late, letting themselves into the dormitory with a night key.

The Marsi girl had met her faithless lover at the party, and it is supposed she was so discouraged after an interview with him that she determined to end her life. She is yet in such condition that she cannot give a connected story of the tragedy. Early yesterday morning other attendants at the hospital smelled gas and finally broke into the room. Two of the girls were then dead and Miss Lotri was beyond resuscitation. By hard work Miss Marsi was partially revived and admitted that she had closed all the windows, locked the doors and turned on the gas with the intention of killing herself. She had hoped the other girls would be awakened by the smell of gas in time of escape.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

Forests' Unnatural Death.

The life of nearly all forests is cut short by fire or by the hand of the lumberman. When a spruce forest is entirely destroyed by fire young spruces do not at once spring up and cover the burned area. The seed bearing cones have been burned, and the spores and seeds of other plants which are readily carried by the wind find their way in first. The task of preparing for the forest is begun again, but this time it is to be a shorter one. The first year after the fire mosses and often tiny flowering plants appear. These are replaced by the fireweed and other flowers whose seeds are provided with hairs so that they reach such places quickly. These are soon joined by raspberries, roses and other bushes. Among these the young seedlings of aspens appear in a very few years. The latter grow rapidly and in a score of years form a low sunny forest. An aspen forest makes a brilliant contrast with the dark green forests of spruce.—St. Nicholas.

Origin of Ascot Races.

When did Ascot races begin? They are mentioned in the first "Racing Calendar," published in 1727, and the usual statement is that they were founded by the Duke of Cumberland, uncle of George III. But an entry in the accounts of the master of the horse in 1712 suggests that they were founded by Queen Anne on Aug. 6, 1711. The truth, no doubt, is that Ascot races, like many other august institutions, gradually developed from a germ, so that it is difficult to say when they really began. At any rate, they were quite the sort of thing that enthusiast of the turf, Queen Anne, would have founded. She was a thorough Stuart in this passion. It was her great-grandfather, James I., who encouraged, if he did not establish, horse racing in Scotland and popularized it in England.—London Chronicle.

Keen Sense of Humor.

"There is nothing like a sense of humor," said a naval officer, according to the Philadelphia Bulletin. "In a woman, in a soldier, in a sailor, in a clerk, a sense of humor is a help and a blessing through life. At the same time even a sense of humor may exist in excess. I, for my part, shouldn't care to have so great a sense of humor as a British soldier I once heard about. This soldier was ordered to be flogged. During the flogging he laughed continually. The lash was laid on all the harder, but under the rain of blows the soldier laughed.

"'What are you laughing at?' the sergeant finally asked.

"'Why,' the soldier chuckled, 'I'm the wrong man.'"

An Arab Fishing Yarn.

A fishing yarn from Algiers: "Some Arabs were fishing from a boat with lines off the coast when a dolphin seventeen feet long, eleven feet in circumference and weighing four tons swallowed one of the baited hooks and dashed off at a tremendous speed. The fishermen paid out as much line as possible and then made it fast. This brought the dolphin up sharply, but the strain snapped the line. The monster then attacked the boat and capsized it, flinging the fishermen into the water. Other Arabs ashore waited till the dolphin was clear of the men and then killed it with rifles."

The Logical Question.

A little Philadelphia boy was taken by his father for his first visit to the zoo. Stopping before an inclosure, he asked, "Papa, what animal is that?" Reading the sign tacked up to one side, his father responded, "That, my son, is a prong horned antelope." "Kin he blow his horns?" was the question that promptly followed.

Praise and Flattery.

We must define flattery and praise. They are distinct. Trajan was encouraged to virtue by the panegyric of Pliny. Tiberius became obstinate in vice from the flattery of the senators.—Louis XVI.

Two Girls.

It is just as easy to fall in love with a rich girl as it is to fall in love with a poor one, but it is generally easier to marry the poor one.—St. Joseph (Mo.) Press-News.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 50c and $1.
